It reprocesses waste and toxicity. Chiron days suggest clear insights arising out of criticism or judgments. The shock spurs an opportunity to heal or change something permanently.

🏠 Red Action Days. These are all big action days when planets come together, or conjunct. Like a New Moon, they kick things into gear. A week filled with 'red' is an action week.

MOON LEGEND

MOONS:

● NEW MOON. BEGIN – time for new projects, new ideas and planting. This begins a two week period of start-ups.

◐ FIRST QUARTER MOON. BUILD – time for structuring and managing what began in the last week or so.

◯ FULL MOON. RELEASE – people tend to be edgy, nervous, and impulsive – eating too much and sleeping too little. Slow down. In these next few days things come to a head. Decisions are made.

◑ LAST QUARTER MOON. REST – wrap-up for the last four weeks. Do paperwork, clean desk, get a mailing ready to send to clients, rest. Withdraw.

VOID OF COURSE PERIODS:

■ V/C +/- means Void of Course Moon. When the calendar is marked V/C, this means the moon is out of aspect, or things planned may fall through. When marked with a +, it represents a positive flow of events. If marked with a -, things are out of sorts.

→ (note time). Back on track.

ECLIPSES:

☾ means ECLIPSE. There hasn't been one in this position for 19 years, so it is a super charged time for people, particularly the signs in which the eclipses hit.

🔪 90 days after the eclipse. Get ready for some new insights that force change!

☐ Shadow Point Days: Days when life gets back on track and you are clear.

If you've been confused as to what to do or say, particularly around personal relationships, then this is the week for doing that! The First Quarter Moon offers the opportunity to build a new plan/blueprint and when Mercury enters Aries, new ideas come in from all sides and from many people. However, challenges in relationships appear at week's end as Venus, the planet of relationship and personal values, jousts with Saturn who doesn't hold its punches. Say what you mean and mean what you say. Set boundaries – get it done.

One more week of that 90-day period after the last eclipse in December brings emotions full circle. A Full Moon blows out of the water any pent up emotions. Watch your driving and working with anything electronic. It may be that it is time to rewire the office or consider investing in new equipment to get the job you want to get done really done. Only you can decide what systems work best for you, because you are the one that is responsible. Others may not agree, but you are the one putting up the money or time, so be clear.

Mercury continues retrograde until early April. This is a perfect time to clear out your office, your closets, get your taxes in order, dump all those periodicals you aren't reading and donate those items to Shelters or Goodwill. Edit and review all writing projects and papers. Just a reminder – Mars, the planet of motivation, is still retrograde. Exercising caution in planning is paramount. However, with Mars in fabulous aspect to Jupiter (good luck and vision) and Pluto (the transformer), the week brings more positive options. Jupiter reaches its lucky shadow point, too. Mercury aligned with Uranus on the 18th affords a sudden insight or destined meeting putting you in the right place at the right time.

The Uranus shadow point brings back into the picture some of the ideas that began back in July, 2011! Moving, remodeling, changing it up are all highlighted.

Last week you got the inspiration and the ideas. This week you do the research and ask the questions that you must ask, even though it isn't that comfortable to do that. How much, how far, how often and when. If you want the best, then you have to be willing to take the psychological and the courageous risk and do the research. The First Quarter Moon helps you plan out what you are proposing. Offer your target the opportunity to think about your proposal. Don't expect an answer now, leaving the door open for extended conversations.
